

Washington Report

by GEORGE ANDREWS
Member of Congress
Third District of Ala.

News of the inhumane treatment being given American prisoners of war by the North Vietnamese Communists, once again show what little regard the Communists have for human life.

Who will soon forget the stories of barbarism told recently by two American servicemen finally released by North Vietnam? They told of physical torture, psychological terror, public display, insufficient medical care and treatment, neglect of health, dietary and sanitary necessities, denial of correspondence with relatives, and forced compliance with propaganda and political exploitation.

I have introduced a resolution, along with other House members, calling on North Vietnam and the Viet Cong to comply with Geneva Convention provisions and provide more humane treatment of American captives. To date, they have ignored all civilized concepts of international accords and agreement on prisoners of war.

I am urging the President to initiate through diplomatic, military and any other available channels, such action as may be necessary to insure that the 1949 Geneva Convention provisions on POWs, which North Vietnam signed in 1957, are accorded all American servicemen being held in North and South Vietnam. The President should especially urge that the government of North Vietnam and its allies identify prisoners whom they hold, release seriously sick or injured prisoners, permit impartial inspections of all prisoners of war facilities, and permit the free exchange of mail between families and prisoners.

Such a resolution may help create an outpouring of indignation across the country, thereby mobilizing public opinion against the cruel treatment of POWs by the Vietnamese Communists and hopefully forcing the Communists to give our soldiers better treatment. We know that Hanoi is highly influenced by American public opinion.

Success in dealing with the Communists can never be safely predicted, but we must do something about our men in the enemy's prisons. This Administration, like that before it, has obviously given up any thought of rescuing them through offensive drives into North Vietnam.

Defensive Department officials list 340 servicemen as known captives in Communist POW camps. Still, more than 1,200 servicemen are listed as missing in action, and could be captives. Neither the Viet Cong nor the North Vietnamese have ever officially released the names

graze steers on temporary pasture

Every winter more and more farmers turn idle acres into profit by grazing steers on well-fertilized temporary pastures.

HERE'S HOW:

Agricultural authorities report that feeder steers weighing 450 to 500 pounds, grazed on winter small grain at a stocking rate of one steer per acre, gain about 300 pounds in 150 days, at a cost of about $40. If you buy feeders at 30¢ a pound and sell them at the same price—the 300-pound weight gain equals $90 per animal! Your profit is $50 or more per head—much more if you sell at a higher price!

FOLLOW THESE TIPS

- (1) Select calves capable of making fast gains—preferably good or choice.
- (2) Use recommended amounts of lime and mixed fertilizer, based on soil tests. Apply at planting time or just before.
- (3) Use certified seed.
- (4) Apply recommended amounts of nitrogen at planting time and top dress with an equal amount of nitrogen in February or March.

For more details on profitable winter grazing, see the experienced folks at your Big Boy Headquarters. They offer a complete program tailor-made for farms in this area.

- Big Boy Fertilizer—standard granular grades or prescription blended with extra nitrogen added to save you one top dressing
- AMMONITE Nitrogen—solutions or prilled years in Florida after school hours in the afternoon and during the summer prior to entering the University of Alabama in the fall following high school graduation. Alva Hugh was awarded an AB degree in Journalism at the University in 1948 and after serving two years active duty as an Air Force officer he returned to the University and received a law degree in 1957.

Alva Hugh Maddox is one of the finest young men I have ever known. He earned his education by hard work. During his college years he continued to work after class hours contributing toward the financial part of his education.

Alva Hugh was recognized for his ability during his college years. He served as secretary-treasurer of the Student Government Association and as managing editor of the school newspaper, The Crimson White. He was recognized then for his ability and he has continued to be recognized in the state.

After receiving his law degree he became law clerk to Judge Aubrey Cates of the Alabama Court of Appeals and later worked with the Veterans' Administration as an attorney and as law clerk to the United States District Court in Montgomery. He was appointed Circuit Judge in Montgomery County and later served as Deputy District Attorney for the County. He has served as legal advisor under three governors.

Alva Hugh's appointment to the Supreme Court by Governor Brewer fills one of two additional seats on the Court created by the new constitution.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Meek wish to express their gratitude for the prayers, flowers, food and kindness shown to us during our recent bereavement.

The family of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Meek 9/25/1969.

ONE THING that stands out in my mind which happened while Alva Hugh worked at The Florida News was one afternoon he dropped a five dollar bill on the floor in the office supply department and we could never find that money. He hunted for days and everytime I went into the office supply area I would look again for his money. We never did find it and it was always a puzzle what went with that five dollar bill. It never found it I never did know it that five dollars and wonder what could have happened to it. It just seemed to vanish right before our eyes.

It seems to me that I vaguely remember a lady who worked for us a number of years after Alva Hugh left. Finding a five dollar bill, I wasn't at the office at the time but I was told about it and I have always wondered if that could have been the five dollars Alva Hugh lost.

At that time a five dollar bill was a lot of money. It was a lot of money to me and it was a lot of money for Alva Hugh to lose. I'm sure he remembers losing the five dollars and I'm sure he wonders until this day what could have happened to it. It was a puzzle to us all. And I'm still not happy about it.

THE GRANDCHILDREN can pull off some pretty good ones at time and last Saturday was one of those times. Cindy and Sonya and I were going out to see my sister, Pauline McGee take up the eggs at 6 o'clock but Sonya was a little worried. She said she had to be back before 7 o'clock because she was going skating and she had to be at the skating rink at 7 o'clock "to get her money's worth." Mack almost fell out of his chair with laughter and I think shocked. He couldn't imagine Sonya being concerned with "money's worth."

Anyhow, we went to see the eggs come in and she got to the skating rink soon after 7 o'clock so she didn't "lose" too much "money's worth."

I DON'T THINK I'm really a coward but I'm sure not brave when it comes to suspicious incidents. Tuesday night I was "baby sitting" with my grandchildren, or probably I should say I was at their house and they were "grandma" sitting me. Anyhow, the doorbell rang about 8 o'clock. That was very unusual in itself but when the girls came running to tell me that some men were at the door it excited me also. But I went to the door and there stood two nice looking young men, not dressed up, but not hippies either. I wasn't about to open the door but asked them what they wanted and they said they wanted to use the telephone. Since I have read so many gruesome stories about similar incidents I told them that I couldn't let them in. I don't remember ever seeing either of them but that could be because I had gone to the door worried following the report from the girls. And I didn't want to be forced to shoot anyone—especially in the house but if I should let anyone inside and they acted the least bit suspicious I would shoot and ask questions later—that is, if they were still alive and could answer questions.

A couple of years ago several things happened that I thought it was time I learned to shoot and I did. I just don't allow a situation to happen where I think there is a possibility that I would have to shoot someone.

These boys may be someone I should know but regardless I could have offered to do the telephone for them. I didn't. Didn't even think about doing that.

Regardless of who they were or what their purpose was they should not have been going to any home to use the telephone. They should have come to town and used a telephone at some of the places open all night or at that time, anyway.

It is risky business for a young man to do what they did. They could have been shot by a frightened person or if something happened in the area they could be charged with it when perhaps they would not be the guilty party.

In this case it was risky for all parties concerned. I will never allow anyone in the house under such circumstances but maybe I can be thoughtful enough to offer to do the telephoning for them in a like situation.

I HAVE HAD so many contrary jobs this week I had decided not to write a column behind a person's back is to but I got instructions right at the last moment to write a column—or else. Well, I'm not sure what "else" is so to be on the safe side I'll get busy.

Windham - Smith Vows Exchanged September 13

Miss Janice Virginia Windham became the bride of Earl Glenn Smith on Saturday, September 13. The double-ring ceremony was held in the Damascus Baptist Church at 7:30 in the evening with the Rev. Eugene Bess officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. David Wilson Windham of Elba and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bernard Smith of Opp.

Mrs. John Lawless of Elba, organist, accompanied Mrs. William Goodson, vocalist of Montgomery, as she sang "Whither Thou Goest." The traditional wedding marches were used.

White tapers in twotree candelabras with greenery and in an arc illuminated the altar. A sunburst arrangement of white gladioli and bronze chrysanthemums was centered on the altar with fern and small plant trees interspersed at intervals.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her empire gown was of white bridal satin with a bodice and sleeves of lace. Her train of satin was accented with lace motifs and fell to chapel length. Her veil of illusion was attached to a circlet of flowers and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white miniature carnations, tuberoses, and stephanotis centered with a white orchid and showered with satin ribbon.

Miss Pam Davis, of Elba, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Joni Smith, Miss Sue Griffin, Miss Linda Kelley and Miss Nancy Lunsford, all of Elba. Their gowns were fashioned of gold crepe and the empire waist was accented with olive green velvet ribbon. Their demure carnations and stephanotis veils of tulle were caught to matching gold ribbon bows. They each carried a single long stemmed bronze mum.

Mr. Gary Smith, of Opp, brother of the groom, served as best man. Usher City, cousin of the bride, were Wayne Duffell and Sonny Jones, both of Opp. Dickie Lunsford, Elba and Wayne Windham, brother of the bride, Candles were lit by Dickie Lunsford and Wayne Windham.

Mrs. Windham chose a dress of mauve lace. Her accessories were in the same hue and her corsage was of white cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Smith's dress was blue sheath style with a blue lace coat and matching shoes. Her corsage was also of white cymbidium orchids.

RECEPTION

Immediately following the wedding, the bride's parents entertained with a reception in the fellowship hall of the church. Mrs. Wallace Forehand of Alexander City, aunt of the bride, greeted the guests and introduced them to the receiving line. Miss Kathy Windham presided at the bride's register.

4-H'ers May Select From Wide Ranges

Coffee County 4-H'ers interested in raising livestock have a wide range of projects and activities to select from -- beef cattle, market hogs, horse and pony, and livestock judging, says Dan J. Presley, Coffee County Extension farm agent.

He adds that most livestock projects have shows and sales organized for the benefit of 4-H members.

The 4-H Club livestock program meets the needs of many of today's youth," Presley says. "Over 21,000 boys and girls in the state are now enrolled in 4-H livestock projects."

A livestock judging is a popular project that gains attention of more boys and girls each year. This year, about 1,800 4-H members were trained in judging with 335 boys and girls representing 59 counties in district contests. Ninety 4-H'ers took part in the state contest, making it the largest state project elimination ever held for a single 4-H project or activity.

Also, the pony and horse project is popular. In this project, 4,969 4-H members were enrolled this year. These clubsters have many different breeds of

BRAINSTORMS

Do you like pretty girls? If so, don't forget the Miss Elba contest tonight at 7:30. I checked out the contestants while taking a picture Monday morning and rather than trying to pick a winner this year, I am just going to sit and enjoy the scenery.

The Elba Tigers lost a football game Friday night but no Elba fan left off in disgrace as the Tigers lost by only six points and were beaten by a good team. The mud and rain worked against both teams but my biased opinion is that it hurt Elba's running backs more than it did the Opp attack.

The talk of a new or improved football stadium in Elba has again cropped forth and this time it is a little more serious than before. There was a big rush for the season tickets and reserved seats this year and some came away on the short end and mad in spite of the expansion of the section. For years, the crowds were overflowing at the big games (Opp, Enterprise and sometimes Andalusia) but now days it is almost impossible to get a seat at any home game if you do not get there at six or six-thirty. For Elba to have a new stadium, a lot of people will have to dig down deep in the old folding money but if other towns can have nice stadiums, it is an insult to the students and town as a whole for us not to have one.

It is hard to believe that the Elba marching band could improve so much over their first appearance two weeks ago but they have. Band director, Bill Hickman, said after the Brantley game that even though he was pleased with the band's performance, they would have to improve before the next game. Well, they did -- and again before the Opp game, Monday afternoon they were earnestly practicing for another show and it promises to be excellent also. While I am raving about the Elba band let me throw them some roses for the concerts they perform after each game. This is just wonderful.

The new building for Whitman Drug Company is moving at a fast clip these days much to the satisfaction of the owners, I am sure. One morning this week, the steel beams that span the building were due at the site at 8 a.m. Well, by 8:25, Bill Oggs was fuming and calling everyone looking for his steel. He had a crane ready to unload and no steel. When the truck did arrive a few minutes later, Oggs was seen in the middle of the street frantically waving his arms for it to come on -- he must have been paying that crane by the hour.

I received a letter this week from one of our subscribers. She was upset over the assistance the police department gives to funeral processions. She thought something should be done about this and encouraged me to publish what I found out. Well, I did check with the police department and with several people who have attended funerals lately. The police state that they "work" all funerals they are informed of and the three different people I asked stated that the police had been directing traffic at the funerals they attended (each a different funeral). I can only conclude (and hope) that the funeral that prompted this letter was an exception and not the rule.

Can't close without voicing my praise for Governor Brewer's appointment of Hugh Maddox to the Alabama Supreme Court. I know him and feel it will be a good appointment -- and this is not because we both attended the same high school.

September Is Family Fitness Month Don't sit there! Exercise! That's the word from the Family Fitness Council which is sponsoring National Family Fitness Month in September. Objective of the month-long event is to crystallize attention on the urgent need for daily exercise for figure control and health.

"There is no substitute for daily exercise in developing a supple, energetic body," states Herbert C. Johnson, Jr., President of the Council. "The development of equipment for home use is a psychological inducement to use it regularly, unaffected by weather and with a cloak of privacy," Johnson points out
